Philadelphia cuisine is more than just a cheesesteak. To discover the secrets of the city, join a group with other enthusiastic foodies who search high and low to unearth treasured Philadelphia eats with the Taste of Philly Food Tour. But it's not just food this tasty tour is serving up. Owner, food writer, author and tour guide, Carolyn Wyman is a proud Philadelphian who shares her passion of food history, origins of dishes and the heritage of legendary restaurants.

Centered in the Reading Terminal Market, a world fair of food located in Center City, Wyman shares her carefully curated list of the best food vendors the market has to offer. From the founding of the market to today, Reading Terminal attracts creative chefs innovating new street foods to serve all levels of Philadelphia society. With its "no chain" rule, you won't find any chain stores in the Reading Terminal Market. It is strictly local businesses, some of which have been passed down from generation to generation during the past 150 years!

The tour features local delights including Philadelphia-style ice cream (made without eggs for a pure and simple taste), the roast pork sandwich, hoagies, cheesesteak, scrapple (a Pennsylvania delicacy), pretzels and a few oddities like turtle soup and oysters!
